BIOFUNCTION PRACTICE SYSTEM ARTICLE COPYRIGHT NOTIFICATION

The articles available in API's Biofunction Practice System are copyrighted and not intended for duplication by BPS purchasers or any others who gain access to them. These articles are intended to be used by dentists who purchase BPS as a basis in developing your own custom content for promotional purposes of your services and educational seminars on the web, in print, etc...

It is important to develop your own custom content in order to improve your website's search engine optimization rankings so your site will rank well. If these articles would be duplicated multiple times as written on the web, it is likely that Google could detect it as duplicate content and penalize all the sites with the same content, negatively affecting your ranking.

Please use these valuable article as intended by API as a foundation to writing your own practice branded, custom article and watch your practice's new patients and production grow!
