

Advanced Prosthetics Institute

CENTER FOR EDUCATION OF COMPLEX DENTAL ISSUES

The Advanced Prosthetics Institute The Center for Biofunctional Practice and Philosophy

The Advanced Prosthetics Institute is “the” dental educational center for enhancing clinical skills by demystifying the complexities of advanced dental care services including dental surgery, implant training and treatment of Biofunctional Disorders.

Our mission is two-fold:

First, to ensure that individuals living in our communities have access to qualified doctors trained in Biofunctional philosophies that can help to prevent, intervene and treat complex dental issues arising from poor jaw biomechanics and force distribution problems as well as the detrimental effects of oral and systemic illness of acid and inflammation.

Secondly, our mission is to help catapult Dental Practitioners, Dental Practices and Dental Teams to extreme growth and profitability, by creating an amazing practice identity through our Biofunctional Care Philosophy and Marketing Systems.

What is Biofunction?

Biofunction is a practice philosophy and clinical focus that recognizes the link between poor jaw biomechanics and force distribution problems, coupled with the negative effects of oral and systemic acids and inflammation that have the potential to create severe dental problems if left untreated. These resultant dental problems include:

1. An exaggerated incidence of tooth decay
2. Flexural stress damage: abfraction, enamel crazing and wear facets
3. Weakening, fracture and loss of teeth and dental restorations
4. Non-perio induced recession of gums and periodontal bone loss
5. Induction of parafunctional habits of bruxism and clenching
6. Damage and wear of the temporomandibular joint and capsule
7. Facial muscle injury and resource depletion
8. Symptoms of TMJD
9. Chronic facial pain

Advanced Prosthetics Institute

CENTER FOR EDUCATION OF COMPLEX DENTAL ISSUES

10. Chronic headaches and migraines
11. Bite collapse
12. Occlusal disease
13. Dental demise
14. Terminal dentition

What is a Biofunctional Disorder?

The cumulative effect of negative oral biomechanical forces coupled with medical systemic issues of acidity and inflammation resulting in: dental demise, terminal dentition, induction of parafunctional habits like bruxism, occlusal trauma, symptoms of TMJD, chronic facial pain, chronic headaches.

What is a Biofunctional Education:

An education in Biofunctional theory will teach practitioners how to clinically recognize and diagnose underlying conditions contributing to ongoing, chronic damage to teeth, gums, bone, joints and muscles creating expensive dental problems for patients and issues of tooth failure and pain. It will teach practitioners how to recognize individuals currently within their practice suffering with Biofunctional conditions as well as new clientele in the community in need of Biofunctional treatment. A Biofunctional Education will give Practitioners the clinical skills, technology, knowledge and the critical thinking skills needed to recognize the condition, recognize the problem contributors and to begin treating and curing these plaguing chronic issues for their patients. In addition to this education the Advanced Prosthetics Institute will supply the support and the materials needed to give instant ROI and begin immediately attracting and treating this undiscovered patient population through:

- API's "Biofunctional Practice System" (BPS)
- API's exclusive Facebook group
- API's online forum providing access to the minds of our experienced Biofunctional team

Advanced Prosthetics Institute

CENTER FOR EDUCATION OF COMPLEX DENTAL ISSUES

What Can I Expect from API's Course Series: Demystifying Complex Care

Please do not be confused! This is not a course dedicated to Occlusion, or treatment of TMJD, chronic headaches, migraines, dental reconstruction or even implants. This course series is a Complete Practice System designed to help you create a unique Identity and Philosophy that will allow you to become a hero to your patients by giving you the education, skills and practice tools to become a “fully” comprehensive care provider. It will give you the tools to become a master marketer in an untapped market space that your competition doesn't even know exists. It will increase practice success and Profitability by giving you the power to attract endless new patients and add services in the areas of dentistry that are most desirable to you. This educational series will teach you how to fully manage issues of TMJD, Chronic Facial Pain, Occlusal Disorders and Occlusal Disease. It will teach you Surgical Principles to help you to add new surgical procedures such as tissue grafting, dental implants, sight improvement for implant placement including bone grafting. This practice philosophy and education skill set will drive your general practice by continuously attracting a patient population with a mouth full of existing issues needing to be addressed.

If this sounds too good to be true, take a minute to watch videos of what API's “Biofunctional Graduates” are saying under the Testimonial tab of our website.

Don't wait another day to join our growing team of “Biofunctional Dentists”. Your patients deserve your participation and so do you, your practice and your dental team. Find a course date that works for you. We are waiting to help you toward your new Clinical Identity and Practice Philosophy in treating Biofunctional Disorders.

See You Soon,

Jason Campbell, D.D.S.
Founder
Advanced Prosthetics Institute